++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cold and dry overnight. Sunshine and scattered showers on Tuesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any remaining showers will ease this evening leaving dry conditions overnight. Northeastern areas likely to have the clearest skies, whereas patchy cloud will remain elsewhere. A cold night, with frost and a few isolated fog patches forming under clear skies. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Tuesday:
A dry, frosty start with some bright spells. Cloud developing towards lunchtime bringing scattered afternoon showers. The showers ease later and cloud begins to disperse overnight. Feeling milder than Monday. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Scattered showers possible on Wednesday afternoon but otherwise dry, with the recent pattern of sunny mornings and cloudier afternoons continuing for the outlook. Gradually becoming milder, though still cold overnight.
